IT WILL ALL GO FOR COAL

NEW YORK, December 11.-An appeal to J. Pierpont Morgan for a supply of coal for the poor of New York has been made by Commander Booth Tucker on behalf of the Salvation Army.

tion-Coal Held for Higher Prices

The great financier has been asked to insure the delivery to the Salvation Army of a regular supply of from twen-ty-five to one hundred tons a day, at a reasonable price, for distribution in small quantities among those whose sufferings

Mr. Morgan has promised to render all the aid in his power.

A check for $1,000 to be used in purchasing coal for the poor has been sent to the Salvation Army headquarters by Miss Helen Gould. Other liberal donations have been received. At the yards the Salvation Army wagons have precedence over those of other purchasers. Coal is Held Up.

But the cry of "scarcity of coal" seems to be a fiction. Along the D. L. & W. road, between Secaucus and Jersey City, there are thousands of cars of coal, which have been lying on sidings for weeks walting till cold weather should send prices up. Thousands of loaded cars are held up along other coal roads just outside the city.

The apparent scarcity is due to a general hold-up, in which both wholesalers and retailers are interested.

J. E. Swanstrom, president of the borough of Brooklyn, has decided to start a movement to assure a coal supply to novement to assure a coal supply to brooklyn and to end all suffering there or all winter.

He will ask all the ministers of the churches in Brooklyn, the heads of charities organizations and prominent citizens to meet early next week to organization for the end in view. Mayor Low, it is said, will take some action for the other boroughs.

NATIONAL GUARD SCHOOL.

Advisability of Compelling Attend ance at Drills Went By.

General discussion occupied this m ing's session of the school for the officers of the National Guard. The most interesting of the discussions was led by Major Kuhlman, of Auburn, on field en-gineering. There was also some discus-sion as to the advisability of the State owning armories and a suitable tract of land for encampment purposes. The majority of the officers seemed in favor of the State cwning such properties, but the matter was not put to a vote. The advisability of a bill being introduced in the next Legislature providing for compulsory attendance at drill, was not taken up of attendance at drill, was not taken up or voted on this morning.

The various captains of the State seem pretty evenly divided on the question, some declaring that such a law would render it almost impossible to obtain new recruits for the militia. The majority of the captains, however, were in favor of abolishing the fine that is at present imposed for non-attendance, it being their idea that it would be sufficient simply not to pay the member for such nights that he was not present.

The school closed with this afternoon's session.

The Lights Went Out.

The Lights Went Out.

The northeastern part of the city had an attack of "lights out" last night and old-fashioned kerosene lamps were brought from the attic and returned to service. In the neighborhood of Seventeenth street and Central avenue there were only a few lights burning, Massachusetts avenue also suffered because of the failure of electricity. One of the northeastern feed wires gave way during the rain last night. The damage was repaired to-day.

HOTEL CLERK WHO INVENTED TALE OF ROBBERS.

FRIENDS FROM GREENFIELD

Persuaded Judge Stubbs to Give Him One More Chance.

William H. Moore, the young clerk at the Lorraine Hotel, who robbed the safe one night about ten days ago, and then emptied his revolver into the show case and wood work to substantiate his story of three robbers, has been re-leased by Judge Stubbs on suspended sentence and has returned to the home of his mother in Greenfield.

Never before has there been as much pressure brought to bear in any Court case. Leading citizens of Hancock county interested themselves. Delega-tions came to the city, and beseeched Judge Stubbs. Petitions signed by nearly all the leading citizens of Greenfield were orwarded.

Private letters from business and pro essional men, the county and town offi-ers, including the mayor and sheriff, rominent farmers and citizens followed The Grand Army Post and members Judge Stubbs's Heart Touched.

Everyone gave Moore an excellent reputation. Everyone urged Judge Stubbs to believe that Moore's conduct in Indianaoolis was of a temporary character.

An editor in Greenfield told Judge Stubbs that the success of his paper was partly due to the efforts of Moore, a former em-ploye. Many people throughout the county subscribed for the paper, he said, because of Moore's connection with it.

To have the right thing in dress for the occasion for which it is required, is perhaps of more importance than that it shall be elaborate and expensive.

Silver gray and gunmetal gray are both very popular and serviceable colors which are worn by young women, as well as elderly women.

If the lines of a figure are not perfect, effort should be made to conceal rather than accentuate imperfections.
